

Congress Will Stage Probe Of Navy Morale

To Hear Navy Pension Bill Passes First Test In House

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Two investigations were launched today in the aftermath of navy officers' charges that naval morale is shattered and the national security weakened under the unified defense setup.

The House Armed Services committee scheduled a hearing for navy officers who feel that the air force is being given too much priority and that sea power and its own air arm are dangerously slighted.

A few hours later, Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, announced an investigation to determine how "confidential" naval correspondence containing some of the charges happened to be made public last night.

Regulations Broken
One of the navy's "cardinal regulations" regarding confidential material has been broken, Denfeld said. He said he was "distressed" and indicated disciplinary action was in prospect.

Denfeld said he himself did not approve the charges, although he had spoken in the correspondence of the danger of stripping the navy of its offensive power, had noted the "present navy-wide concern" over recent defense developments, and had quoted a 1945 warning of Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King against putting sea power under "persons who are not thoroughly familiar with its potentialities."

In the background of the dispute was the continuing rivalry between the navy and air force over aerial assignments in any future war—a white hot rivalry which has persisted during the past two years despite military high command and congressional efforts.

Will Settle Troubles
President Truman, in a brief comment on the row, today expressed hope and belief that the navy and air force will "get all their troubles settled." When that happens, he said, he hopes "the army as usual peace agreements worked out by the will go along and make its way."

The quarrel flamed into full public view last night when a navy source, asking anonymity, released letters three admirals had sent Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

One of them, Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan, commander of the First Task Fleet in the Pacific, said navy morale has sunk "almost to despondency" because of a belief that this country is being "sold a false bill of goods." The false bill, he indicated, is the theory that war can be won cheaply and quickly by giving top priority to the air force or any single branch.

Bogan acknowledged today that he had written the letter and that he stood firmly by it. Aboard the carrier Valley Forge in San Diego bay, Bogan said:

"I wrote the letter in good faith, because it's what I believe. I'll take responsibility for what I said, but not for release of the letter."

Pick 8 Jurors As Trial Of Tucker Corp. Head Begins

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Eight jurors, five of them women, were selected today as the trial of eight promoters of the Tucker corporation began. The defendants are charged with mail fraud and violation of the federal securities act.

One prospective juror was dismissed by the government when he volunteered "I was surprised to learn that this is a criminal prosecution."

And while Jury Venemen were being examined for the criminal proceedings, new salvage moves developed in a second district courtroom of the old, domed federal building.

Judge Michael L. Igoe signed an order cancelling the corporation's lease on a huge, government-owned war plant. And, in Judge Igoe's presence, a group of Tucker stockholders submitted a reorganization plan for the company to its court-appointed trustees.

Veterinary Sues Hearst Syndicate

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A University of Illinois veterinarian sued the Hearst Publishing company, publisher of the Chicago Herald American, for $460,000 damages today, claiming he was libeled in newspaper stories.

Dr. Elihu Bond, superintendent of the animal quarters at the U. of I. laboratory in the west side medical center, filed the suit in federal court.

The stories cited in the suit were published in June during a Herald-American anti-vivisection campaign.

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Legislation extending social security to 11,000,000 more workers won its first test today as the House, against Republican protests of "gag rule," voted 189 to 135 to bar any amendments to the bill.

Then, although procedures permit four days of debate, a bi-partisan drive began for a final vote by tomorrow night. Speaker Rayburn said passage is certain.

Some members voiced hope the bill might soften labor's demands for special pension plans financed wholly by employers. In the federal insurance program the costs are shared equally by workers and their employers.

Besides expanding old age and survivors insurance coverage, the administration bill would boost benefits by 70 to 80 per cent, create new disability insurance, and treble payroll taxes in the next 20 years, to finance the expanded program.

House Republicans, after a morning mass meeting, bitterly fought what they called a "gag" outlawing amendments. Most of them said they want Social Security expansion, but argued that some of the provisions of the measure before the House are dangerous.

Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) shouted that the new disability insurance points toward a "welfare state." Rep. Madden (D-Ind.) replied that such arguments were made when the first Social Security act was passed in 1935.

The Republicans offered a substitute bill. It resembles the administration measure in many respects, but proposes a slower boost in taxes and would delete the proposed new insurance payments for workers who become totally and permanently disabled. They argued that the public assistance program can care for the disabled.

Paraguay Decrees State Of Siege To Fight Subversion

Asuncion, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The government decreed tonight a state of siege to combat what it said were activities intended to reestablish a regime of "depression and terrorism" in Paraguay.

The decree was issued only three days after Federico Chavez left the supreme court bench to become president. He succeeded Felipe Molias Lopez, 49-year-old dentist who resigned under pressure from the ruling Colorado party.

Molas Lopez seized power last February in the country's fifth change within a year. He was chosen president April 17 in an election in which he was the sole candidate.

"There have been rumors in Buenos Aires that Chavez is finding the presidential job a tough one to hold on to," this dispatch presumably passed through Paraguayan censorship. It did not mention the name of the president and omitted any direct reference to specific causes for a state of siege.

(A state of siege is usually proclaimed to put down a revolution or to stamp out a revolutionary plot when one is uncovered.)

Truman Watches Mass Parachute Drop Of Infantry

Fort Bragg, N.C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Truman witnessed a spectacular mass air drop of 1,000 infantrymen and 105 mm howitzers in a war game here today after expressing belief that the navy and air force will "get all their troubles settled."

The President smiled as he took note of the hot inter-service controversy that has swirled about the Pentagon this week and in Washington for weeks. He spoke at an informal luncheon at the officers' club before the maneuvers of the 82d Airborne division and following a 20,000 foot review.

He said he hopes that when the navy and air force get all their troubles settled "that the army, as usual, will go along and make its way."

U. S. Pigeonholes Red China's Recognition

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A request by China's new Communist regime for United States diplomatic recognition was shoved today into an official American pigeonhole.

The State department said in announcing its receipt there are no present plans for either answering or acknowledging it. The request, submitted in a letter signed by Chou En-Lai, Communist foreign minister, was in terse terms which a U.S. spokesman called "an implied insult."

"I consider that it is necessary that there be established normal diplomatic relations between the people's republic of China and all countries of the world."

Chou En-Lai, minister of foreign affairs of the central people's government of the people's republic of China.

Lacking were the usual diplomatic expressions of good will and friendship. Reporters asked Lincoln White, State department press officer, at a news conference whether recognition proclaimed by Russia and the Soviet bloc nations.

The Communist request appeared to be a form letter sent to all foreign diplomatic missions. It expressed a personal opinion.

Before a decision is reached whether to recognize the government just proclaimed by the Communists at Peiping, the State department plans to consult with Britain and other western powers and with Congress.

Diplomats forecasts that action will not be speeded by the quick recognition proclaimed by Russia and the Soviet bloc nations.

1st World Series Game Threatened By Rain Clouds

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Threat of rain cast a gray shadow tonight over the golden world series opening tomorrow between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

But the forecast of scattered showers failed to lower the enthusiasm of the vast multitude of raucous Dodger adherents, of haughty Yankee supporters, and of out-of-town baseball fans of all stripes of opinion.

Yankees Stadium, site of games one, two, six and seven of the baseball classic, can accommodate 70,000 fans but it was all sold out except for the usual bleacher seats which are a cinch to sell like hot cakes when the gates open at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The first day crowd may set a new record for receipts. The stadium mark is $327,659.70 made in the 1947 series with Brooklyn. Since then prices have been boosted from $6.60 to $8.00 for boxes and $4.40 to $6.00 for reserved seats. This may bring the receipts over even the lush $378,788.73 hit in the larger Cleveland stadium last year. Prices then were as they are now but there are more box seats in Yankee Stadium.

There were black market offers as high as $50.00 for a single place in a box costing originally $8.00.

Triplet Girls Raise 34-Year-Old Mother's Total To 17 Children

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Birth of triplets to plump Mrs. Arthur Griser today gave the 34-year-old housewife 17 children to show for her 15 years of marriage. But she is emphatic:

"There'll be no more for me. This last bunch was just too much."

Bunchy Doctor H. A. John said she could go on having babies for another ten years. Mrs. Griser just smiled and replied seriously:

"No, this is the finish."

She had four sets of twins, and six other children before triplets, Roy, Richard and Joanne Marie arrived yesterday.

Joanne Marie was first and weighed in at six pounds. The boys scaled seven and six.

The other 14 income exemptions scrambling around the old modest frame Griser house in suburban Pittsburgh are:

Thomas, 15 months.
Twins James and Joseph, 3.

Twins Mary and David, 4.
Twins Dorothy Jean and Robert, 6.

Harry, 7.
Twins John and Dolores, 9.
Samuel, 10.
Sarah, 12.
Arthur, 13.
Agnes, 15.

Daddy Arthur wasn't at home as the jolly Mrs. Griser showed off the triplets. Said the mother:

"He can't afford to stay home from work. It costs a lot of money to care for all these kids."

Griser is 42 and earns $16 a month as a fireman at Westinghouse Air Brake Corporation. He often walks the four miles to work to save money.

Dr. John said Arthur is taking things in stride this time, explaining:

"He's getting used to it."

Discussing her big family, Mrs. Griser commented:

"Some people have told us we shouldn't have so many children, but we like to raise them."

The mother's sister came in to help out and eight of the Griser children were sent to stay with another sister. The tots at home chased in and out of the house all excited by the triplets.

The Griser home is a five-room affair, frame and snugged with the look of a Pittsburgh's industry. The triplets were born in a downstairs front room furnished with a pot-bellied coal stove, a couch, a small table, a big double bed.

Curious neighbors gathered on the street as reporters and photographers converged on the place.

A seven-year-old girl watched and told a playmate:

"They came to see Mrs. Griser. She had some more babies."

MAN WINS CHEMICAL WAR WITH SKUNK

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Leon Wiggins beat an expert in chemical warfare at his own game today.

A skunk invaded Wiggins' basement through an open window. Wiggins reconnoitered, then released some chloroform fumes in the basement.

Wiggins moved in for mop up operations and gingerly carried out the skunk, sound asleep.

Senate Shelves Farm Support Bill After 2-Day Fight

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A Senate split wide open on the question of how to support crop prices tonight and ended two days of bitter battling by temporarily shelving a long-range farm bill. The vote was 41 to 29.

The action came on motion of Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, after his flexible price bill had been rewritten into a high-support measure by Vice President Barkley's action in breaking a tie vote.

Anderson's motion to send the bill back to the agriculture committee for 48 hours was adopted. He praised efforts to compromise.

Sen. Lucas of Illinois, the democratic leader, said the measure will be taken up again as soon as the committee returns it to the Senate.

"Furthermore," Lucas said, "we're going to get a farm bill this session no matter how long we stay here."

Barkley went against Anderson and Senator Lucas of Illinois, the democratic leader, to make the vote 38 to 37 for adoption of an amendment by Senators Russell (D-Ga.) and Young (R-ND) setting up price props at 90 per cent of parity on major crops—cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

The board may continue Parks' certification, approve a proposed acquisition of Parks by mid-continent of Kansas City or make new route awards to mid-continent or other applicants.

Parks has said it now is ready to fly the routes with single-engine planes but it prefers merger with mid-continent. This line would employ twin-engine transports.

Railroad Fair's Paul Bunyan Goes To Minnesota

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Paul Bunyan, whom many states claim as a native son, is going home to the one that backed up its talk with dollars for a permanent residence.

Big Paul, legendary giant of the North Woods Lumber camps, is to be moved from the grounds of the Chicago Railroad Fair to Brainerd, Minn., deep in that state's hunting and fishing playground.

The world's largest animated man entertained more than 2,500,000 visitors during his 100 days at the Chicago and North Western railway exhibit. Today he was purchased from the railroad by a group of civic minded residents of Brainerd, population 14,000. The Fair closed Sunday.

They didn't want to see Paul go to any of the other states that claimed him. The railway did not announce how much was paid for the big lumberjack who wears a size 42 cap, a 150-inch belt and a shirt of 768 square feet of gaudy plaid.

The Weather Bureau said heavy rains and locally strong winds preceding the storm would strike in extreme northeast Texas, extreme northern Louisiana, southeast Oklahoma, Arkansas, southern Missouri, extreme southern Illinois, extreme western Kentucky, western Tennessee and northwest Mississippi.

The hurricane first struck last night at the rich industrial and agricultural coastal area between Matagorda and Freeport. Then about 1:30 a.m. (CST) today it hit Houston.

Its slap early today at this city of more than 500,000 was surprisingly light. But the hurricane smashed hard at a bumper rice, cotton and vegetable crop.

The storm's center, traveling about 15 miles an hour, had moved 120 miles northeast of here tonight to Lufkin. The Weather Bureau said it would continue its weakening advance the next 12 to 18 hours, throwing 40-mile-an-hour wind squalls a distance of 100 miles ahead of it.

As it thrashed inland the hurricane whipped and pounded fertile rice and cotton fields. In Jefferson County "Beaumont," where only 15 per cent of an $8,000,000 rice crop had been reaped, losses ranged from 20 to 70 per cent.

Many others blocked highways last night as they fled inland.

In the presence of a small gathering of friends and relatives, Miss Ella Jean Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ambrose of Scottville, was united in marriage with Kenneth K. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Moore of this city.

The double-ring ceremony was performed Sunday at 4 p.m. by Rev. Henry Spencer at Central Baptist church. Miss Helen Ambrose of Belleville was the only attendant for her sister. The best man was Jack Moore, brother of the bridegroom.

The wedding marches were played by Miss Fay Reynolds. Mrs. Agnes Haynes sang "Always" and "O Promise Me."

The bride was attired in a dress of azure blue satin, with soft gray accessories, complemented with a corsage of red rose buds. Her sister wore a dress of cocoa brown, with light brown accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the Jay-Cee restaurant. The couple then left on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home at 329 West Morgan street.

Mrs. Moore, a graduate of Scottville high school, class of 1947, was formerly employed at Grant's.

Her husband attended Jacksonville high school and served two years in the marine corps. He is now employed at Grant's.

Almost 43 million cars of railway freight were loaded in the United States during 1948.

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-look forefront at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS (Dynaflo Models) plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

OMNIBUS APPROPRIATION BILL WILL GIVE BETTER PERSPECTIVE

Next year Congress will make an important advance in its handling of appropriations covering regular government expenses. Funds for all major activities will be lumped together in one omnibus bill.

This reform was assured recently when Sen. Harry Byrd, Virginia Democrat, finally won the Senate over to the idea after four years of trying. Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, already had announced that his group would put together a single appropriation measure in 1950.

Up to now money for the various regular departments and agencies has been voted in a long series of separate bundles. Debate and action on the full list always has consumed many days' time in both houses. This year the Senate has not yet completed passage of all appropriations.

But there is far more than time involved in this change. Handling government funds on a piecemeal basis simply doesn't work well in these days of huge expenditures. Congress never gets the panoramic view it needs if it is to keep outlay and revenue intake in balance.

For example, many times in recent years lawmakers charged with preparing tax legislation have put off action for months and months on the ground that until they knew how much the government would probably spend they could not fairly decide whether an increase or reduction in levies was justified.

Furthermore, government budget-making ought to be a well-knit process all the way from the Budget Bureau's basic estimates to the final congressional vote. A budget is a thing of many parts, but they are related parts. What good does it do to scrimp and save in one department if funds for another agency are to be doled out with careless abandon?

Money for any particular purpose ought to be considered in relation to genuine need, to the amount of revenue expected at existing tax rates, and to the competing requirements of other activities.

Too often our lawmakers have blithely voted for particular projects as if there were no others bidding for government funds. But even those who wanted a fuller picture contended they could not get it under present congressional practice.

The Byrd-Cannon plan is no cure-all for our budget-making troubles. More reforms are needed. Congress still must rely too heavily on the word of the government agencies as to the necessity of expenditures. It needs its own well-trained staff of budget investigators; present assistance is inadequate. And the Administration, for its part, ought to present its budget to Congress in a far more simplified form than is now the case.

But the plan is welcome as an opening wedge in a field too long neglected.

Vote Against Approving Third Term For Olds

Washington, Oct. 4.—(P)—A Senate commerce subcommittee voted unanimously today against approving a third term for Leland Olds on the Federal Power commission.

The subcommittee includes four Democrats and three Republicans. The full Interstate Commerce committee is slated to meet tomorrow and may act then on the subcommittee's recommendation. Since the full committee has only 13 members, the subcommittee constitutes a majority for it.

Olds, 58, has served on the commission since 1939. He was first appointed to it by President Roosevelt. President Truman nominated Olds for another term, but he cannot serve without Senate approval.

The subcommittee voted to recommend that the Senate reject the nomination. That would mean putting Olds' name before the whole Senate for a vote.

Olds has been under fire for articles he wrote in the 1920s and for his views on federal regulatory powers over the natural gas industry.

Friends of Olds have contended that the attack upon him stemmed from big power and national gas interests.

194 Junior High Students Enroll In Youth Center

The enrollment of junior high students in the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center reached 194 with the addition of several new members Monday evening.

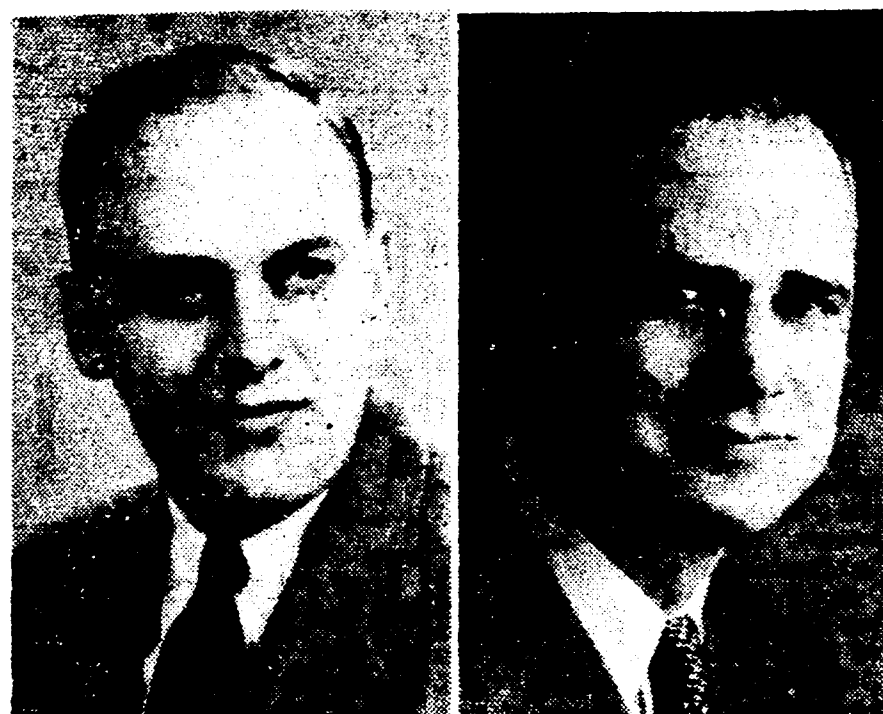

Membership in the organization, which is separate from membership in the Y.M.C.A., is open to all young people in the community, ranging from junior high to young adult age.

An attendance of nearly 200 junior high youngsters was present for the get-together Monday night, which was supervised by the parents' committee for October. The committee is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goin, co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jacobs, Mrs. Bruno Bonjean, Mrs. Gene Megginson, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Kendall and Mrs. Irving Olson. Several guests were also present, including Mr. and Mrs. James Waltz and Mrs. Madrona Deaton.

Music was furnished by the J.H.S. Swing band, a 14-piece orchestra featuring two vocalists, Charles Grant and Jean Myers. The director is James Welch.

Following the social period, a meeting of the students' and parents' committees was held, during which plans were made for activities next Monday. The early part of the evening will be devoted to informal recreation, after which dancing will be enjoyed.

Boyle's Column

No Grey Skies

New York.—(P)—There is a Broadway saying that Al Jolson didn't invent humor—he just found a way to put it in the bark.

And at 64 the king of Schmatz is still a young man working overtime to keep the wolf from his door. His fellow entertainers say, however, this isn't a necessity now—it's a habit. They estimate that nasty old wolf would have to chaw through $400,000 to $15,000,000 in greenbacks before he could cross the Jolson threshold.

I dropped in on the timeless marmoset the other night, and found him still as energetic as a boy on a pogo stick.

"Come in, kid," he said, jauntily in a pigeon blue robe decorated with his initials in red. He bounced over to a hotel chair.

"This robe cost me $150,000," he remarked. "A broker gave it to me—but I bought some of his stock."

For the next hour Al kept up a running fire of wisecracks on his past, present and future. There's one thing about the oldtime entertainers—they put on as good a show for one listener as they do for a packed house.

At the moment Jolson is still collecting from "the Jolson Story" and waiting for the golden harvest from "Jolson Singing Again" to roll in. He's in the spot of a man who can't make any more money by working—because of the tax laws—but he still wants to keep busy. Mr. Whiskers has got "Sunny Boy" crying uncle.

"I had to pay a million dollars in taxes last year," he grimaced. "The worst thing is they want you to show receipts and data."

A Million Dollars to Relieve Piles

It is estimated that over a million dollars a year is spent on varied remedies to relieve piles. Yet druggists tell you that cooling, astringent Peterson's Ointment soothes pile torture in minutes. 40c box or 60c tube applicator. Peterson's Ointment gives fast, joyful relief from itching. Be delighted or money back.

"I don't even have dis-a, how'm I going to shoe 'em data." The phone rang in the bedroom. It was his wife, Earle, calling from California. Jolson's outraged voice echoed into the living room:

"What! twelve hundred and fifty? Wait until I get out there. Don't do a thing until then. I'll call you day after tomorrow. What, dear? Awright. No. Awright. No. Awright. dear. I'll call you tomorrow. Awright, tomorrow."

Al came back in, indignant. "Can ya imagine. We're addin' on a couple small rooms. They want $1250 just to throw on some paint and hang a few drapeperies."

Jolson has a formula for staying young—the same formula mentioned long ago by Aristotle, "nothing in excess."

"I don't overeat, and I don't oversleep," he said. "And Harry Truman gave me a good tip. He told me, 'if you wait, you die.'"

"I know it sounds corny, but what I'd like to do is go home and play with my kids. I don't know how."

"I'm a bigger success than I ever was. Now I want to sit down and play—and I don't know how. That's what I want—and I don't want."

8 in a ham. I have to keep on singing, even if it's only in my bathroom." I asked Al what he liked to read, and he said:

"Well, I don't waste my time reading books about what will happen when the animals take over the world."
"To hell with that. The animals took over long ago."
All but that wolf. He'll never get past Al's door.

Wilma Metz Becomes Bride Of Harold Chute

Chambersburg — The Baptist church at Meredosia was the setting for a pretty wedding Sunday afternoon at two o'clock when Miss Wilma Metz daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Metz of Chambersburg and Harold Chute son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chute also of Chambersburg, were married.

The church was decorated with autumn flowers. Preceding the ceremony nuptial music was played by Harold Spencer of Carbondale college. John Fisher of Meredosia sang "Because," "Always" and "You're so Understanding." The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. Dawdy of Patterson. Miss Alma Metz, twin sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. Mr. Chute chose as his best man, his brother Gale Chute.

The bride was attired in a floor-length white satin gown, made with a roll pointed neckline, and long pointed sleeves. Her veil was of white net. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby orchids and a white Bible. The bridesmaid wore a pink satin formal, with a round roll neckline and puff sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white baby mums and wore a short veil of pink net.

The bride's mother wore a navy print with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations and baby mums. The bridegroom's mother wore a teal crepe gown, with black accessories and a corsage of white carnation and baby mums.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, west of Chambersburg, with about 80 relatives and close friends attending. The bride cut the wedding cake, baked by her aunt, Mrs. Archie Thompson.

The couple then left for a wedding trip to Chicago. For going-away the bride chose a brown dress and top coat with matching accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Beardstown, where the bridegroom has a position.

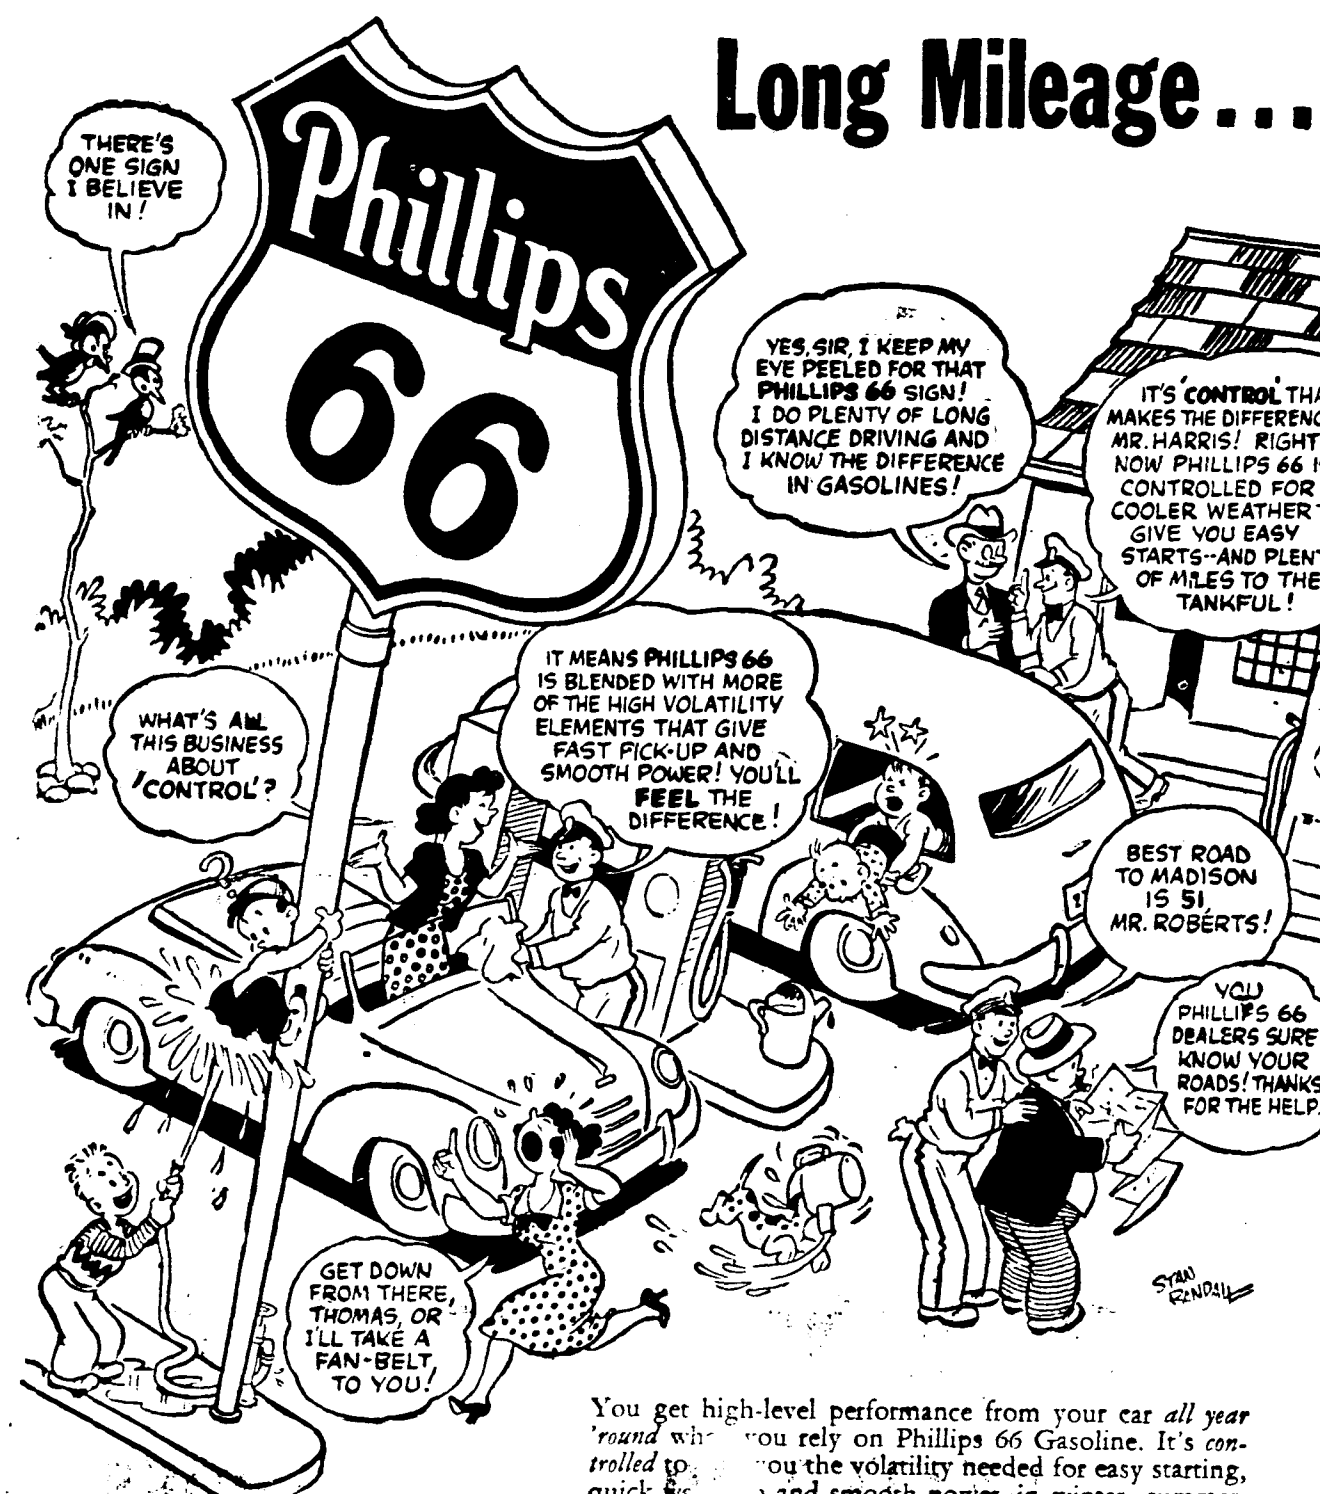

Weddings Now On The Records.

Evanston, Ill.—(AP)—Art Foy figures wedding pictures are o. k. as far as they go, but they don't go far enough. So he has gone into the business of recording the words and music of the rites on a tape recorder. He calls them "portraits in sound." Sometimes, of course, there are difficulties.

"Once," he says, "I had the mikes in place, the music started and the bride came down the aisle. It was a perfect ceremony until a barking dog interrupted the soloist. Then an airplane buzzed the church and a fire siren drowned out the couple in the midst of their vows."

Shipment Of War Surplus Tables Allotted Schools

County Superintendent of Schools John C. Deem announced Tuesday that final arrangements have been made with military authorities at Camp Ellis for the distribution of 1,827 surplus army mess tables to the schools of Morgan county that have requested them.

These tables are valued at $18.-270.00. The tables may be used by the schools as they are, or may be torn down for lumber. The used lumber value of these tables is well over $8,000.

These materials were secured through the state superintendent of public instruction, Vernon L. Nickel, and are available only to school districts. The allotments in Morgan county as per requests of the school districts are as follows: Unit district No. 1, 200 tables; unit district No. 6, 200 tables; and Jacksonville High school, 1,427 tables.

Octopuses used jet propulsion in swimming long before men thought of the idea.

BYF To Launch Study Of Various Religions Sunday

The Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist church met in the church Sunday evening. The meeting was opened with the singing of several hymns, after which Bill Jarrett presented the topic lesson, a brief outline of the plan to be followed throughout the year in the study part of the meetings.

The group is to study the religions of the world, with the understanding that a general knowledge of the religions existing in the world today leads to world understanding, and world peace.

The religions to be generally studied and the persons to present the lessons are: Oct. 9, Brahmanism, Mary Worral; Oct. 16, Animism, Jane Morrison; Oct. 23, Judaism, Carol Taylor; Oct. 30, Shintoism, Bill Query; Nov. 6, Zoroastrianism, Jean Lutz; Nov. 13, Buddhism, Daisy Huggitt; Nov. 20, Mohammedanism, Mary Jane Eck; Nov. 27, Confucianism, Norma Davenport; and Taoism, Barbara Crale; Dec. 4, general summary, Marjorie Morrison. Starting Dec. 11, the group will study the Life of Christ, commencing with the "Birth of Christ." This study will continue through Easter, when the crucifixion and resurrection will be presented. Following a circle prayer, the business session was presided over by Marjorie Morrison, president of the group.

All persons interested in the research of the group study of the religions of the world are cordially invited to attend the meetings held in the church at 6 p. m. each Sunday. Miss Ann Jones of the high school faculty is devotional sponsor of the group, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hankla are social sponsors.

Glasgow—The combining of the crop of soybeans has been going on the past two weeks, with good weather favoring the operation. Local bean yields are reported ranging from average to heavy, and of good quality.

Civic Leaders Endorse Board's Move To Ease Crowded Grade Schools

The Jacksonville Board of Education was requested last night "to prepare and offer plans" for the amelioration of the crowded conditions in the city's elementary schools. The same resolution contained an acknowledgment of "immediate, imperative need" for additional space to care for the additional pupils accrued through the city's growth and the greatly increased local birthrate.

The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote after a two-hour discussion of the problem by more than 50 church, civic and educational leaders who attended an open meeting of the board of education held in the high school library.

Dr. M. A. Summers, president of the board, presided. After introducing the members of the board, the president outlined the purpose of the meeting, "to meet a definite crisis."

"We are elected to foster education in Jacksonville. We have overcome minor crises, but right now we think we need considerable assistance."

Jefferson school is badly overcrowded, Lafayette is overcrowded, Franklin is at capacity and Washington is near capacity, the president recounted.

Peak Not Here

"And the peak year is not here yet," he continued. The secretary of the board, City Superintendent of Schools D. R. Blodgett spoke on the greatly increased number of births, up nearly 50% in the past four years. He suggested construction on "a conservative basis" of 444 new elementary students and advocated establishment of kindergartens at all elementary schools.

Board Member Mrs. Hugh Begg presented two plans that have been considered by the board. The first would include extensive remodeling and rebuilding, particularly at Jefferson and Lafayette schools. A two story addition would be added at Franklin; no additions would be made to Washington.

Approved By U. of I.

The second plan, approved by University of Illinois school building specialists, provides for a new elementary school to be built on the south end of the athletic field in the north end of the city, plus improvements at Jefferson and Franklin. Room for future needs at Washington would be provided by moving the crippled children's section now housed there to the new school.

Board Treasurer Harry A. Hammit spoke on "the financial end of the proposition." Plan I probably would cost less than the more desirable Plan II. Preliminary estimates indicate the second plan would cost approximately $650,000, "but these are only rough figures," he warned.

The district on Jan. 1 will have a bonded indebtedness of $242,000, the treasurer reported. If a bond issue for building purposes were approved by the voters, the debt probably would carry a 2 1/2% interest rate.

$26,000,000 Valuation

The district has an assessed valuation of $26,000,000, with a statutory indebtedness limit for building bonds of $1,300,000. Using the $600,000 figure as the cost of expanding the city's elementary school system, the treasurer estimated a need for an additional levy of 50c per $1,000 valuation for a ten year period, 1951-1961.

Increased educational costs incident with the expanded plan may be met solely through increased state aid, Mr. Hammit added.

A question and answer session followed.

Without exception, all speakers admitted the seriousness of the condition and expressed their hope that the situation could be remedied as soon as possible. Some felt that the plans were "too short range" and might not work into a satisfactory overall system within the next 10 years.

Union Suggested

One suggestion that was well received by the group was the possibility of working with the residents of the new consolidated district located just north of the city with the view of erecting just one new building in the north end of the city which would be adequate for the needs of both the city and the new district.

Rev. Lewis N. Raymond presented the resolution. It approved the efforts of the board and contained a pledge of cooperation and support with a request that the board proceed with plans to provide adequate elementary facilities. Another joint meeting of the board and all interested persons was proposed, "to be held in the near future."

The resolution was seconded by Dr. Mary Louise Newman and passed by a unanimous vote.

First Jet-Powered

Airliner Unveiled

Toronto, Oct. 4.—(P)—The first jet-powered transport plane built in North America zoomed into the clouds over suburban Malton Airport today on its first public unveiling.

The jetliner is designed for most efficient operation at 30,000 feet with a cruising speed of 430 miles an hour. This is almost 100 miles an hour faster than the top speed of comparable conventional planes. It will carry from 40 to 50 passengers in an automatic, pressurized cabin enabling it to climb 6,000 feet a minute without undue effect on passengers.

It is powered by four British Rolls Royce Derwent jet engines developing 14,000 horsepower.

"One day after his operation, Senator Vandenberg continued to be in satisfactory condition."

The Senator's aides in Washington said they had been assured his ailment was "not malignant."

A COBRA STRIKES--LOOK AGAIN

A couple of novice herpetologists, they're people interested in snakes, enjoyed looking at this picture. But they didn't agree.

One said the photo was a faithful reproduction of a king cobra going back into a defensive position. It's a sweet potato raised by George Northrop, 20 1/2 inches long, but less than two inches in diameter at its thickest part. Total weight, fourteen pounds. The eyes and snout are natural; the photograph is unretouched.

The other declared it was a photograph of a puffing adder taking a Sunday afternoon stroll.

But people who have seen the original on display at Cowper's grocery store in Glasgow know better.

Corporation Loans

Unsecured In 1948

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(P)—About three out of four loans placed privately by industrial corporations last year were unsecured, a survey or private placement financing disclosed today.

The survey was made by E. V. Hale and company, Chicago, specialists in this type of financing.

Private placement is a financial term used to describe a loan which has been made by an institution, usually an insurance company, to a borrowing corporation. It is distinguished from public financing, in which the companies issuing bonds or stocks to the public.

E. V. Hale said half of the total private loans he had studied were made either to repay bank loans or to strengthen working capital. The survey was based on a study of the portfolios of 85 institutional investors, mainly insurance companies, of which 58 had made private loans.

"Out of 467 loans studied," the company said, "139 were no larger than $500,000, 85 were $500,000 or less, and 17 were actually not over $100,000. Loans of $100,000 or less made up almost half of the total."

Duck Stamp Sale

Sets New Record

Washington, Oct. 4.—(P)—The annual sale of federal duck stamps produced a new record revenue of $2,127,598, the fish and wild-life service said today.

The previous record was 2,016,815 stamps sold in the 1946-47 season. The total in 1947-48 was 1,722,677. The largest state sale in the current listing was California with 171,388.

Next in order were Texas with 164,075, and Minnesota—leader for the two preceding years—with 162,300.

More Members Goal In C. Of C. Campaign

Chamber of Commerce members launched a one day membership drive at a breakfast in the Duquoin hotel, Tuesday morning. Waldo McCreery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the meeting which was attended by about 30 campaign workers.

Sounding the keynote of progress, McCreery cited excerpts from the minutes of board of directors' meeting to show how the community is moving forward under the cooperative leadership of the Chamber of Commerce. Pointed out as significant were numerous legislative proposals and community improvement programs. He urged workers to solicit support on the basis of the overall community benefit rather than direct personal benefit to the member.

Karl Baker, secretary of the chamber, explained the mechanics of the campaign in the absence of Membership Chairman Earl Spink, who was ill. Workers were requested to solicit the prospects assigned to them and report to the office whatever results obtained. The campaign will conclude with a report luncheon Wednesday noon at which all workers are expected to be present.

Several merchandise prizes will be awarded at the Wednesday noon luncheon but as was pointed out, these are more to add fun to the drive than to serve as a stimulus to the worker.

The real purpose of the campaign was stated as "to broaden the membership and financial base of the Chamber of Commerce in order that the community may progress in proportion."

MONEY MAN—The generosity of Cornelius La Roy of Lansing, Mich., above, was too much for Washington, D. C., police. The 39-year-old machinist was picked up after giving away some $15,000 in cash to some "poor people." One man got $7000 to "pay off his home" and another $5000. "I buy a bus." Most of the rest went to waitresses and cab drivers in $100 tips. La Roy was taken to a hospital for observation.

Greene County Board Leases 360 Acre Farm

Carrollton—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Painter, the present superintendent and matron of the Greene County Farm located northeast of town, have leased the 360 acre farm under the plan which was advanced at a recent meeting of the Greene County board of supervisors.

The plan called for the leasing of the land and the selling of all personal property at the county farm. No definite plans were made at that time for the housing of five who are making their home at the farm including Jim Voiles, who has spent 50 of his 59 years there.

At present, plans of the supervisors are still incomplete, but there is a possibility that the men will continue to make their home there with Mr. and Mrs. Painter receiving adequate pay for housing and feeding them. Mr. and Mrs. Painter will not conclude their term as superintendent and matron of the farm until March 1. At that time Painter will take over the farm on the basis of his lease.

POSTPONE MEETING
The meeting of the Centenary W.S.C.S., which was to have been held on Oct. 5, has been postponed until Oct. 12 because of the death of one of the members, Mrs. Margaret Dinwiddie.

Somali Tribes Stage Battle

Asmara, Eritrea —(AP)—A blood feud between two Somali tribes flared into open warfare recently. Eighty were killed and 120 wounded before French Somaliland authorities intervened, according to reliable information reaching here. For years at harvest time there have been outbreaks between the Gadabussied and Issas tribes, near Djibouti. Basis for their difference is that the Issas claim local autonomy while the Gadabussied favor complete French control. Then both sides started fighting, using modern weapons smuggled in from British Somaliland during the war. In 40 minutes the battle was over and the field was littered with dead and wounded. The situation completing the first air crossing of now is described as normal again.

What It Means: More Money For Country Banks

Washington—War time inflation funneled a lot of money into "grass roots" banks—country banks patronized by farmers. That's the conclusion of Fred L. Garlock, economist for the United States Department of Agriculture.

Garlock says the more industrialization and commercialization there was in an area, the smaller was the gain in bank deposits.
He points to the one-time dust bowl country as his top example. In that region, where farmers are the mainstay, bank deposits are five times what they were before the war.

Garlock studied U.S. bank deposits for the years 1940-48. He found that by 1948 bank deposits in the farming communities were almost four times what they were before the war. But in the large industrial centers they were only about 2 1/3 times the prewar total. In New York City, the largest financial center, they were only 1 1/2 times the 1940 total.

He gives these reasons, among others, for the gain in country bank deposits:

1. Farm income increased relatively more during the war than did

20-YEAR LAXATIVE HABIT BROKEN!

"Considering I was constipated for over 20 years and laxatives gave me no relief—it was amazing to find eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily helped me so much!"
Mrs. H. Rutledge, 120 Corry Ave., Aero Vista, Warrington, Florida. Just one of many unsolicited letters praising ALL-BRAN. If troubled by constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, try this: eat an ounce of crisp ALL-BRAN every day, drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, return empty box to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

national income as a whole.
2. Farmers' holdings of liquid financial assets (currency, bank deposits and United States savings bonds) increased relatively more than did the holdings of all individuals and businesses.
But now he says conditions are changing and the inflationary period appears near an end.
He adds that in years of "recession," after the first World War, deposits flowed in large volume from agricultural areas to financial centers.

Such an effect can be cushioned by moving more industries to the country communities, he says, giving smaller towns and cities a greater share of the gains from industrialization.

Garlock says the country banks appear to be in good condition and that a substantial part of their assets could be converted quickly to cash.

This means that unless a very serious emergency arises the banks won't have to call upon their borrowers to pay up loans, Garlock says. In past depressions the sudden call for payment of farm loans has increased the trouble.

Again he points to the former dust bowl as an example. He says the farmers of the Great Plains not only have built up their bank deposits to an unusually high level but also have been among the largest buyers of government savings bonds.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Although Tod Duncan has married Jenny, he still is unable to forget being flayed by Liz Conover. Jenny finds her struggle for happiness difficult. Tod takes her to live with his family. There are quarrels and they finally move to a trailer camp while Tod is finishing his college education. Jenny discovers that she is going to have a baby and must quit her job as a model which has given them money to live on. Then Tod meets an old friend from State University, Rick Morris. Rick is quite taken with Jenny and Jenny hopes that Rick comes often to see them—Rick is good for Tod and for her, too.

XIV

Jenny and Rick had a lot of fun in the super-market. He insisted on paying for the groceries, because of so many extravagant items he'd selected himself. mushrooms, some terribly expensive cheese and a bottle of wine.

When Tod returned from his last class Rick, with one of Jenny's ruffled aprons tied around his middle, was in the kitchenette cooking dinner.

Tod was in an extra good humor. He and Rick sampled the wine and had a high time kidding each other.

They had just finished the dessert and lit cigars when Rick said to Tod, out of a clear sky, "Say, you know Liz Conover?"

"Yes."

"I heard she's getting a divorce already from that Courtney fellow she married last spring."

No one said anything for a second or two. Rick looked from one to the other of them. "Did I say something wrong?"

"No," Tod said. He rose and began hunting for an ash tray.

"The ash tray is right behind you, on the desk," Rick said quietly. "And now tell me what's wrong with my mentioning Liz?"

"Well, if you must know Rick," Jenny said, turning the water on in the sink for the dishes, "Tod was engaged to Liz last spring, and she jilted him, and then I caught him sort of on the rebound." She ducked down then to get the soap flakes out of the cupboard, because she couldn't face the angry look on Tod's face.

"That's not true, Jenny, and you know it."

Rick looked uncomfortable. "I didn't mean to bring any skeletons out of the closet."

"It's all right, Rick," Jenny said. She was sure of herself now. "Skeleton or not, it's better to have things out in the open, isn't it? Anyway, I love Tod, and even if I did get him on the rebound, I'm glad I did. We're going to make a success of our marriage."

"Jenny's right," Tod said. His eyes met Rick's briefly as he set the ash tray down on the table. "Want to drive down to the drug store with me," he said. "I'm out of cigarettes."

"I've really got to be going," Rick said.

Jenny protested, but only half-heartedly, and after the usual things were said, Rick left. Tod drove him to his rooming house.

"I didn't know you and Liz were engaged last spring," Rick said as they got in the car.

"We were supposed to be married as soon as I got home from that hospital in New York," Tod said. "She and Courtney eloped the day before I got back."

"You were lucky," Rick said. "Lucky?" Tod said. "To marry Jenny you mean."

"And to have escaped marrying Liz. She's no good. She'll be married to half a dozen fellows before she's through. You'd better get her off your mind and be happy with Jenny. She's a swell kid."

Jenny was all finished with the dishes when he got home.

"There's nothing to apologize for, Jenny," He looked down at her, seeing the softness of her eyes, dark-circled in her thin face. He ought to be ashamed for even thinking of Liz when Jenny was so sweet.

"I guess it's just nerves that makes me fly off the handle so."

"Sure." Tod got out his books and notebooks and sat down at his desk to study. He couldn't get Liz out of his mind.

Aware suddenly that Jenny had been saying something to him, he looked up. "What was that, Jenny?"

"You mean you didn't hear a word I said?"

He shook his head. Her brown eyes were stormy again.

"I said your mother phoned and wanted to talk to you today. They told me at the office. She wouldn't talk to me, but she left her number."

"Maybe I'd better go call her."

At the trailer camp office he found the slip with the phone number on it in his mail slot.

Ma's querulous voice came loudly and reproachfully over the phone.

"We figured you was pretty busy, but like I told Harriet today, looked like you didn't care what become of us. We ain't seen hide nor hair of you for weeks and weeks."

"I've been thinkin' I must look you up."

"I know Jenny's probably doing everything she can to keep you away from us, but it looks like—"

"Look Ma, if you phoned me to pick a quarrel let's break it off right now. I've been meaning to come around and see you. We sold the shack that belonged to Jenny's father and got $500 for it. I could let you have some money if you're hard up. Jenny wouldn't care if you really needed it."

"No, thanks. Joe's got a good job with a friend of his. He says soon as
